NEW YORK FOLK

Suzanne Vega

Some of the best moments at South By Southwest the past few years have been the intimate folk showcases performed by this acclaimed New York singer-songwriter. Her 90-minute concerts draw from her latest album, the much-praised “Tales From the Realm of the Queen of Pentacles” as well as her extensive catalog, including “Luka” “Tom’s Diner” “The Queen and the Soldier” “Fat Man and Dancing Girl” “Gypsy” “Blood Makes Noise” “Marlene on the Wall” and “When Heroes Go Down”

Accompanied by longtime guitarist Gerry Leonard and her daughter, Ruby Froom, Vega’s current tour is drawing raves. When she’s not singing, Vega is prone to share a story or two about friends such as Leonard Cohen. — Hector Saldaña
