

Performing arts For complete event listings, go to mySA.com/Events

WORLD-MUSIC CONCERT

Assads take us flying down to 'Rio'

Noted classical guitarists Sérgio (left) and Odair Assad are teaming up with the former's daughter, vocalist Clarice Assad, for a program of Brazilian music, "Memories of Rio," presented by Arts San Antonio. Devotees of San Antonio's chamber-music scene may recall that Clarice Assad, also a composer, appeared with the SOLI Chamber Ensemble in January for a performance of her song cycle "Elementos."

7:30 p.m. Thursday, Charline McCombs Empire Theatre, 226 N. St. Mary's St. $29-$110 at ticketmaster.com

— Deborah Martin

Courtesy photo

CLASSICAL MUSIC

Olmos Ensemble dives into Brahms

The Olmos Ensemble wraps up its season with a program titled "Brahms and Warren Jones." Pianist Jones (left) will be joined by clarinetist Ilya Shterenberg and cellist Lachezar Kostov.

They will play Brahms' Sonata in E flat major, Sonata in E minor and Trio in A minor.

7:30 p.m. Monday, First Unitarian Universalist Church, 7150 W. I-10. Admission by donation ($10-$15 suggested). 210-269-1925. olmosensemble.com

— Deborah Martin

SEASON FINALE

Acclaimed duo wraps up Tuesday concerts

Cellist Lachezar Kostov (left), who plays with the San Antonio Symphony, and pianist Viktor Valkov will close out the season of the Tuesday Musical Club's Artist Series. Known as the Kostov-Valkov Duo, the collaborators have played together for more than a decade and have won a number a competitions around the world. Their latest CD is titled "Kostov-Valkov Duo: Transcriptions and Paraphrases." Regular attendees of the series' concerts should take note that the performance is at Christ Episcopal Church.

Courtesy photo

Church, 510 Belknap Place. $25 at satmc.org or at the door. Info, 210-877-4985

— Deborah Martin

2 p.m. Tuesday, Christ Episcopal

USAA
presents the
USAA BAND & CHORUS
Spring Concert
a FREE Concert for the Whole Family!
Sunday, April 24, 2016
3:00 p.m.
Laurie Auditorium
Trinity University San Antonio
1 Trinity Place, San Antonio

FREE NO TICKETS NEEDED!

Galleries

NEW EXHIBIT

Art educators display their works

The annual "Artists Who Teach" exhibition organized by the San Antonio Art Education Association is an opportunity for arts educators to show that those who teach can indeed do. This year's installment features work by more than 20 participants, including Elvia Franco (whose work is pictured), Deborah Keller-Rijn, Kathleen Baker Pittman, Clif Tinker and Jennifer Janak who is hosting the exhibition in her studio.

Receptions 6-9 p.m. today : 6-9 p.m. May 6 and 6-9 p.m. June 3, Upstairs Studios. Blue Star Arts Complex, 210-685-8689. Facebook: San Antonio Art Education Association

— Elda Silva

NEW EXHIBIT

The state of Gonzalez's art

Taking a cue from the Energizer Bunny, artist Raul Gonzalez keeps going and going. Fast on the heels of curating three exhibitions for Contemporary Art Month and opening a two-man show with Braydon Gold at the Radius Center, Gonzalez is presenting his latest works in "The Texas Series," mixed-media pieces about and in the shape of the Lone Star State.

Reception 7-10 p.m. Saturday, through May 9, Freight Gallery & Studios, 1913 S. Flores St., 210-331-4382

— Elda Silva

SOLO EXHIBIT

Villarreal drives 'Jaguar'

"Indigenous Jaguar Spirits from the Yucatan," a solo exhibition by artist Andy Villarreal features paintings inspired by Meso-American culture and mythology and characterized by vivid colors and emotional brush strokes.

Reception 6-9p.m. today, through April 29, Centro Cultural Aztlan, 1800 Fredericksburg Road, Suite 103, 210-432-1896, centroaztlan.org

— Elda Silva